ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

These materials were made possible through the hard work and dedication of the curriculum planning team and authors from around the country. In addition to these authors, we would like to thank the Extension Committee on Organization and Policy (ECOP). In 2016

ECOP recognized a need to explore ways Cooperative Extension Service could respond to the deep need for improving race relations across the nation. Through their thoughtful leadership, the Rapid Response Team on Civil Discourse on Race Relations was formed to explore existing efforts within Cooperative Extension Service, catalogue resources available, and recommend next steps for building capacity. This curriculum rests on the foundation laid by this team and the ECOP leadership.
