SLIDE 2

Steve Jeanetta
Community Development Specialist
Department of Rural Sociology
University of Missouri Extension
229 Geary Hall
Columbia, MO 65211
(573) 884-3018, (573) 882-5127 fax, jeanettes@missouri.edu

Steve is a state specialist in Community Development Process for the University of Missouri Extension. He serves as the coordinator of the community development academy and has program leadership responsibility for work in community planning, organizational development and building inclusive committees.

Steve has worked as a community development specialist with the University of Missouri Extension since December of 1992. Steve's mix of experience includes two years in the rural areas of Ste. Genevieve County, Missouri, and then four years in the urban areas of St. Louis County and the City of St. Louis. He moved to the campus in 1998. His skills are in fostering the development of community organizations, creating community plans, addressing land-use issues, and analyzing community infrastructure.

Internationally, Steve has conducted community development training programs in the Amazon region of Brazil, Guyana, Germany, and Canada. Along with other leaders from the U.S., Latin America, and the Caribbean, Steve completed a fellowship in the International Leadership Development Program, sponsored by the Partners of the Americas and the Kellogg Foundation.

He has an M.A. in Community and Regional Planning and a B.S. in International Affairs from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. He is a certified planner with the American Institute of Certified Planners and a member of the American Planning Association. Steve serves as the executive director of the Missouri/Park Chapter of the Partners of the Americas.
