

2017 Bonnie Teater Community Development Community Development Early Career Achievement Award

Sponsored by:
The Southern Rural Development Center

The Southern Rural Development Center is pleased to announce that nominations are being sought for the Bonnie Teater Community Development Early Career Achievement Award for 2017. The following provides specific information regarding this important award and the deadline date for nominations to be received. The award is for superior early career work by an individual (not a team) who has made an important contribution to the Extension Community Development (CD) area. The award comes with a $500 stipend.

Who is eligible: The nominee must meet the following conditions:

- Be currently employed by one of the 29 land-grant universities located in the Southern Rural Development Center region,
- Serve as an administrator, specialist or agent who has worked in the Extension CD area for 10 years or less; and
- Have an impressive portfolio of Extension-related programs and publications.

Nomination Process:

1. Prepare the Primary Letter of Nomination: A "Primary Letter of Nomination" is required from an Extension educator or administrator in the South (but not the nominee) who has an excellent command of the accomplishments of the nominee. This letter should not exceed 3-4 single-spaced pages in length (using 12 point font) and should represent a concise summary of why the nominee is worthy of the award. The letter will serve as the centerpiece of the nomination process and should offer substantive evidence of the superior work that the nominee has achieved over the course of his/her Extension career. The primary nomination letter should include the following:
 - A description of the major community development-related achievements of the nominee over the course of his/her career, with special attention to the significant impact of the person's community development efforts at the state, Southern region, national, and/or international levels;
 - Highlights of key CD-related products that have been developed by the nominee over his/her Extension career (i.e. curricula, fact sheets, websites, newsletters, articles, etc.) that have had an influence in shaping and enhancing community development work in their state, in the Southern region, and/or beyond;
 - Other important and relevant professional activities/committees in which the nominee has been involved that have helped advance Extension community development work at the state, regional, national and/or international levels.
2. Assemble Examples of CD Products: The individual who prepares the primary letter of nomination is encouraged to submit up to three Community Development-related products that have been prepared by the nominee that best exemplify the quality of that person’s Extension work. Providing electronic versions of these products would be ideal (i.e., on a CD, or accessible via a web link), but if not feasible, the primary nominator is encouraged to submit a hard copy set of these documents to the SRDC (one copy of the products only). These documents will not be returned.

3. Obtain Support Letters: Up to three letters from individuals who are knowledgeable of the nominee’s Extension CD work, and who can affirm the significance of the person’s career achievements in advancing CD work within various arenas (i.e., state, region, national, international), are strongly recommended. We encourage that letters be drawn from a variety of sources, such as a county Extension educator, a colleague affiliated with another land-grant school, a government agency representative, a policymaker, a community leader, or other appropriate individuals. Select the combination of three support letters that makes the strongest case for the nominee’s community development achievement.
4. Submit Entire Nomination Packet: The person preparing the primary letter of nomination assembles all the information/support materials and submits as a single packet to the Southern Rural Development Center.

Deadline for Submission

The nomination packet (primary letter, support letters, CD documents/resources) must be postmarked or emailed no later than March 11, 2017 using the addresses noted below. Electronic submissions is highly encouraged if feasible.
