WHERE IT MAY FIT IN THE PROCESS:

The first few slides of this presentation may well fit early in the planning process and are, in fact, included in the SET preview session. These help establish a strong group structure from the beginning.

The entire slide set could well fit near the end of the planning process as regions get ready to start taking action on their plans. The initial slides that may have already been presented earlier are valued at this point as a consideration of whether the existing structure used during planning will remain or change as the team moves toward implementation.
